

VERONICA  PEREZ
& ASSOCIATES

Anh Nguyen is Vice President at Veronica Perez & Associates and brings over 14 years of experience in local, state, and federal government. Her expertise in community engagement, public/government affairs, land use, and transportation has helped clients navigate through a complex political and policy environment in California.

Most recently, Anh led community engagement and coalition building efforts in a statewide campaign, bringing together a diverse and creative coalition of seniors, veterans, civil justice organizations, and affordable housing developers to support campaign goals. On the local level, she also organized and engaged hundreds of community stakeholders, neighborhood councils, and homeowner associations regarding the City of Los Angeles's proposed home-sharing ordinance.

Before joining Veronica Perez & Associates, Anh most recently served as Senior Director of Legislative & Legal Affairs for the Central City Association of Los Angeles (CCA), a prominent business advocacy organization representing over 450 businesses, trade associations, and non-profits. She managed the organization's legislative affairs, and worked closely with community stakeholders and elected officials from all levels of government to implement successful government relations/public policy strategies for CCA and its corporate and non-profit members. While at CCA, she specialized in land use, real estate, and transportation matters, and helped shape some of the most influential land use policies affecting Downtown Los Angeles and its surrounding communities.

Prior to joining CCA, Anh was the Housing & Economic Development Deputy for Los Angeles City Councilmember Bernard C. Parks. In this position, she led policy discussions on a wide range of issues relating to redevelopment, tax credits, city budget, rent control, living wage, and public works issues. She also worked closely with the Community Redevelopment Agency and oversaw the construction of over $500 million in housing and commercial/retail developments during her tenure.

A member of the California State Bar, she received her B.A. in Political Science and Business Administration from UCLA, and her J.D. from the University of California, Hastings College of the Law where she was one of the founding members of the school's Race and Poverty Law Journal.
